Tulare County Wellness System of Care

Vision: "We envision thriving communities throughout Tulare County, where children and Families are supported by a unified, equitable system that prioritizes health, safety, education, and emotional well-being through authentic collaboration, shared responsibility, and aligned resources for lasting positive impacts."

WHAT:

- Align systems and practices across public and community systems and organizations as informed by the community.
- Strengthen family protective factors and address social determinants of health.

WHY:

- Address fragmented approaches to serving families
- More effective and efficient alignment of services results in better outcomes.

HOW:

- Align and leverage each system's existing mandates
- Establish shared governance, finance, data, and responsibility for the community.

To all our community for coming together.

The Lisa Project

A total of 619 individuals were reached, including personnel from Naval Base, farm workers at the Women's Farm Workers Conference, and various professionals.

Until I saw it firsthand, I never thought these things happen,
 But they do, &
 It's here in Tulare
 Co.

The Tulare County Child Abuse Prevention Council was honored to be invited to participate in the Combatting Human Trafficking Roundtable, an important event hosted by Congressmen David Valadao and Vince Fong. The roundtable gathered a wide range of organizations from across California's Central Valley, all working together to address the pressing issue of human trafficking. This collaborative effort aims to foster dialogue, share resources, and develop strategies to combat this devastating crime affecting our communities.
